SAFETY NEWS

Safety Action for the Week – Live your life!

Hey Kent Family!

Too often in life we get caught up in the chaos and lose track of what makes us happy. Many of us put our happiness and dreams on hold for another day, when the truth is life is happening right now. If you want to make positive changes or just work on yourself, today is the day.

Here is where to begin.

Create a vision for your life.

Get clear on your purpose, what drives you and what you desire for your relationships, career, finances, lifestyle, wellbeing, and personal growth.

Treat your body well.

It is your home on this earth so nourish it with water, whole foods, walks, and exercise.

Plan out your week.

Know your top goals and values and plan your week around them -- otherwise you will get swept away by the pull of the modern world.

Reflect on your week.

Give thanks for everything wonderful that happened and acknowledge what isn't working so well so you can fix it instead of repeating the same patterns.

Spend time with good company.

We are heavily influenced by those around us, so surround yourself with dreamers, doers, believers, thinkers, and those who bring out your greatness.

Simplify your life.

If you are feeling overwhelmed, track what you do in a typical week and see what you can remove -- perhaps too much television, worrying or social media scrolling isn't serving your highest good.

Make time for joy and pleasure.

Write a list of all the things that make you come alive and do them weekly -- the whole world will benefit from your light and joy.

No one makes you get out of bed in the morning, no one makes you grumpy, no one gives you motivation, no one gives you a job, no one gives you free money, no one gives you a vacation and many more things no one does for you. That is because you must do these things for yourself and it is your choice or not to jump out of bed with a smile on your face, it is your choice to work hard and get a job that pays all the bills and vacations, it is your job to stay educated, it is your job to find happiness and everything else is your job too.

Stay safe. Stay aware. Stay clean.

Until next week,

The Safety Guy
